

All Charitable Foundation accounts have been reconciled with their respective bank and brokerage statements through June 30, 2020. June financial reports are attached below.

Notes of special interest:

The month of June's stock market had, activity like the previous month, exceptional volatility throughout the entire month. We are invested conservatively, but even still, we have seen serious fluctuations in our overall fund balance. Once again, we did have a meaningful recovery for the month, much of that is from Unrecognized Gains in our portfolio due to the extreme swings that the market experienced. The stock market as well as the bond market is volatile and unpredictable due to the Coronavirus pandemic.

The month of June was very slow for donations, both in the amount donated and the number of donors. This can be attributed to the overall economic slowdown due to the pandemic. The Charitable foundation has begun a more active advertising program to remind and encourage USSVI members to invest in their Charitable Foundation.

There were no significant transactions in June 2020..
